The theme of our meeting will be 'Restoration'. We are joining with the South West Peak Landscape Partnership, who have been encouraging local people to adopt their milestones ...

The South West Peak Landscape Partnership is made up of 14 partners with the Peak District National Park Authority as lead partner. Over the past 5 years the partnership has delivered 18 projects focused on the South West Peak area of the National Park (as distinct from the White Peak and Dark Peak). Some of these have concentrated on community engagement others on the natural world, and two projects have focussed on the physical cultural heritage of the area – the Barns and Buildings Project and the Small Heritage Adoption Project, led by Catherine Parker Heath. It is the Small Heritage Adoption Project that has highlighted a burgeoning interest amongst our volunteers and local communities in mileposts throughout the area. The partnership will end in June this year and we are currently ensuring a lasting legacy for the projects that have been delivered.

The planned programme includes presentations and talks on the Landscape Partnership by Catherine Parker Heath, a new member's view by Hilary Jones, Restoration and Listing projects by Ian Thompson, some wayside history by Jan Scrine and input from John Higgins.

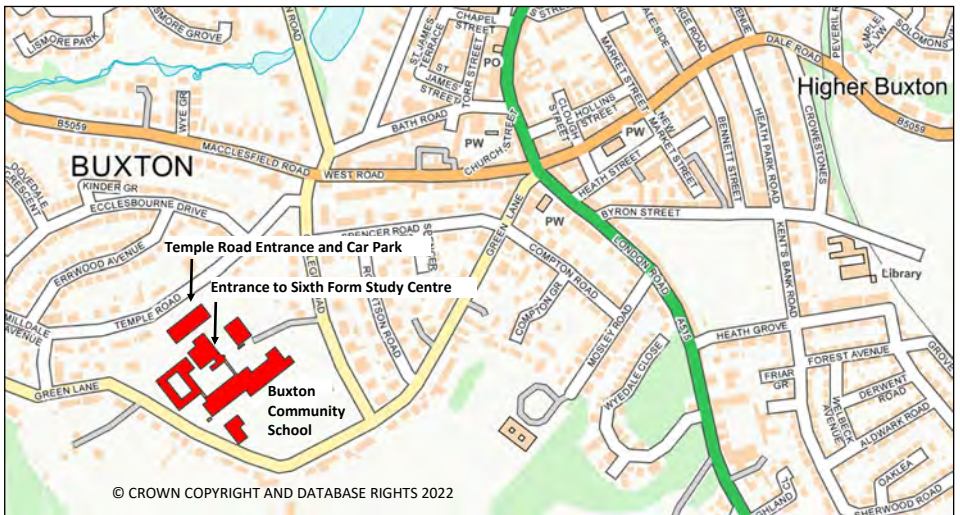

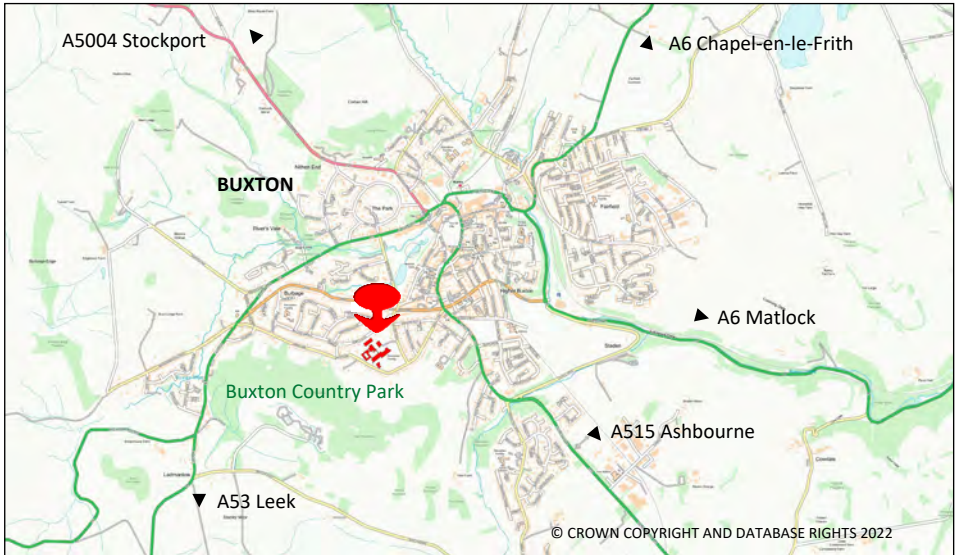

There will be the popular Book Swap table too. And if you are considering helping with running the Society, come along with your questions about what might be involved.

We are looking forward to getting together again! See you there...
